Four erroneous bird species crept into the checklist published along with the short note, 'A Checklist of Birds of the National Institute of Technology Campus, Kozhikode, Kerala' in Zoo's Print Journal 21 (6): 2298-2300. The errors mainly happened while mapping bird names across different nomenclature practices followed in India. The following is the errata.

1. Black-Nest Swiftlet (Collocalia fuciphaga) should read Common Edible-nest Swiftlet (Collocalia unicolor)
2. Grey-capped Woodpecker (Dendrocopos canicapillus) should read Brown-capped Pygmy Woodpecker (Dendrocopos nanus).
3. Bengal Bush-lark (Mirafra assamica) should read Jerdon's Bush-lark (Mirafra affinis)
4. White-headed Starling (Sturnus erythropyguis) should read Blyth's Starling (Sturnus malabaricus blythi).
